BLAIRMORE LODGE B.P.O.E. RESUME REGULAR MEETINGS

It is expected that at the next regular meeting of the Blaimore Lodge of Elks the initiatory degree will be conferred on a class of candidates.

The first regular meeting of the re-born Blaimore Lodge of Elks, held in the Oliva hall on Monday night, was very largely attended. The main business features of the meeting were decision on nights of meeting, dues rates and place of meeting. It was decided to meet in the Oliva hall on the first and third Tuesdays of each month, with exception of July and August, when, owing to the holiday period, meetings will be held only on July 4th and August 29th. Dues were set at $8.00 per annum. Former members of the lodge, who have not yet been reinstated, may do so within a sixty-day period from date of re-organization for a fee of $2.00. During that same period, the initiation fee for new candidates will be $10, which will likely be raised following the expiry of the sixty-day dispensation.

Owing to Exalted Ruler Sidney White being confined to his home through illness, the chair was occupied by Past Exalted Ruler C. J. Tompkins.

The next regular meeting of the lodge will be held on Tuesday, May 2nd, at 8 p.m.

UNITY LEAGUE ORGANIZING

An organization meeting of the constituency Unity League was held at Cowley last night, attended by delegates from all parts of the new Pincher Creek-Crows' Nest Pass provincial constituency. With this object in view, a delegation from Pincher Creek and Lundbreck visited The Pass last week end. The delegation consisted of R. Lynch-Stanton, A. Noel Cox, R. Duffield and Editor F. T. Edwards, of the Pincher Creek Echo. This delegation contacted with people at Bellevue, Hillcrest, Frank, Blaimore and Coleman, and were well received.

The meeting last night was presided over by Mr. A. Noel Cox, of Lundbreck, with F. T. Edwards, of Pincher Creek, as secretary. Mr. Cox briefly outlined the object of the movement, and called upon Mr. Brenson, special organizer, to explain the purpose of the Unity League. Upon motion, the meeting voted unanimously to support an independent candidate opposed to the Aberhart outfit. Various speakers were heard and committees representing Waterton, Pincher Creek, Lundbreck, Burnside-Passburg, Frank, Bellevue, Hillcrest, Blaimore and Coleman were appointed, with power to add to their numbers.

The meeting was quite enthusiastic and adjourned at 11:20.

BELOVED LOCAL COUPLE HONORED ON GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

A number of friends and relatives were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Baird on Wednesday evening of last week, the occasion being their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Baird have been residents of Blaimore for a great many years, and are most highly respected by all who have had the good fortune to come into contact with them. Coming from Nova Scotia in 1898, they first located in the original hamlet of Fernie, which since has developed into a fairly prominent city. In 1902 they returned to Nova Scotia, but came west again in 1907, when they took up residence in Frank, moving to Blaimore a few years later, where they have resided ever since.

Mr. Baird was at one time member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, and was a veteran of the Riel Rebellion, taking part in the activities against the Indians at Duck Lake. He is now in his seventy-eighth year, and up to very recently has been active and in enjoyment of good health. For many years he was employed with the West Canadian Collieries here, retiring several years ago. Mrs. Baird is an active member of the United Church Ladies' Aid, the I.O.D.E., and other organizations, is highly esteemed and beloved by all. Their marriage was blessed with seven children, one of whom, Robert, died in Vancouver two years ago. The other members are: Duncan and Samuel, in Vancouver; John, at home; Bessie, Beatrice and Margaret (Buddy), in Portland, Oregon.

The Enterprise joins with their numerous friends in wishing them continued good health and happiness.

SPECIAL RADIO MESSAGE

TO BOY SCOUTS APRIL 24

An important special message to Boy Scouts and Scout leaders throughout the Dominion will be broadcast by Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Scouts' Association, at 8 p.m. E.S.T., Monday, April 24th. Sir Edward will speak from Montreal, over the C.B.C.

Gum chewing by Edmonton cops while on duty is prohibited.

Mrs. Eleanor Mary Garnaud, who but a few days ago arrived from the States, passed away on Saturday last at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Silverhorn. Funeral took place from the Crows' Nest Funeral Home on Monday morning to St. Anne's church, where Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. Dean Harrington, following which the remains were laid to rest in the Blaimore Catholic cemetery.

Among the various important ceremonies which will be broadcast by CBC from Ottawa during the visit of Their Majesties the King and Queen, will be the unveiling of the National War Memorial on Thursday, May 18, at approximately 3:00 p.m. E.D.S.T. The memorial, pictured above with a corner of the Chateau Laurier visible in the background, was designed by Verdon March, who died before the actual construction was begun. It was carried to completion by his six brothers and his sister, and it is without doubt one of the most impressive produced since the Great War. The memorial consists of a great archway of Laurentian granite, surmounted by two figures allegorical of victory and liberty, standing in all at a height of 60 feet.

VICI GROUP, CONCERT AT UNITED CHURCH

Extremely successful was the concert presented at the United church auditorium on Friday evening last by members of the Vici Group, Canadian Girls in Training, under direction of Miss L. Knappman.

The programme included a play entitled "Marrying Off Father," and various vocal and instrumental numbers, all of which were high in class. Particularly well rendered were the instrumental numbers by Frank Edl and M. Yacubie, and a vocal solo by Miss Lena Fraser.

Taking part in the play were Miss Rose Oliver as Sue Robbins, Miss Greta Casway as Alda Styles, Miss Marjory Casway as Kit Robbins, Miss Berta Harmer as Mrs. Finley, Miss Isabel Meffan as Floyd Robbins and Miss Lorna Hales as HARRY Robbins. Other items included: instrumental trio by Lach boys and M. Yacubie; vocal solo, "Everybody Calls Me Tony," by Frank Edl; melody of old-fashioned songs by girls of the group; saxophone solo by Frank Edl; vocal solo, "Little Brown Owl," by Miss Lena Fraser; accordion solo by M. Yacubie; play "Be Home by Midnight," by Katherine Patterson as Mrs. Jones, Marjory Casway as Mr. Jones, Lorna Hales as the son and Thelma Howe as the daughter.

The church auditorium was packed to capacity, and a neat sum was realized.

Have we been remiss in not working for a hard surface roadway from Pincher Station to join up with the B.C. border? What has our Boards of Trade been doing, or have they considered it? Pressure should be brought, in co-operation with Pass towns, to complete this highway as a part of the park-to-park programme which the Dominion government has inaugurated. Now that the road from Waterton to the United States border is to be hard surfaced this year, the time is opportune to take this matter up with the Dominion and Provincial governments. It is surprising the amount of business that is lost every year owing to tourists abiding off from using a dusty road—Pincher Creek Echo.

A local hen spent about twenty minutes cackling after laying an egg a few days ago. Then a thought struck her, and she started lumbering. Attention had not yet fixed the hot egg.

"JERRY" LONSBURY LAID TO REST AT COLEMAN

The funeral of the late J. Leonard Lonsbury, who passed away on Saturday morning following a stroke but a few days previous, took place at Coleman at 4:30 on Sunday afternoon and was very largely attended. The remains were conveyed from the home to St. Paul's United church, where service was conducted by Rev. H. J. Bevan, following which the funeral cortege proceeded to the Protestant cemetery, where interment was made following last rites performed by Rev. Bevan on behalf of the church, Sidney Short for the Masonic Order and William Martland for the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., with the Last Post sounded by J. Lowe.

Pallbearers were Joseph Emmerson, P. Patterson, Russel Ferguson, H. T. Halliwell, William Burns and W. Darrows. A. E. Ferguson, of the Crows' Nest Funeral Home, was in charge of arrangements.

Deceased was in his sixty-second year, and was a native of Elgin, New Brunswick, and came to Western Canada in 1909, residing in Coleman since that time. He saw service with the 192nd Battalion in the Great War. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Al of Trail, William at home; two stepdaughters, Mrs. A. Easton and Mrs. John Nash, of Coleman; and four sisters and three brothers.

TODD CREEK NOT OPEN TO FISHING

The Alberta Gazette announces that no fishing is permissible at any time in Todd Creek, which has been set aside for rational propagation of fish. Todd Creek runs into the Crows' Nest river near Lundbreck.

A portion of Race Horse Creek, however, will be open to fishermen this season. It is described as that portion of downstream from the forks located at or near the northeast corner of Section 18, Township 10, Range 4, West of the Fifth Meridian. The forks may better be described as four to five miles southwest of the Race Horse Creek bridge in The Gap, twenty-five miles northwest of Lundbreck.

Mrs. Frank J. Smith left yesterday afternoon for Toronto, where she will visit for a while with her son. She will later continue on to Montreal, where she will spend some time with a sister, and later to Montreal, N.B., where her daughter resides.

Andrew Smith, former member of the Drumheller city police force, died recently in Broxburn, Scotland.

Premier Aberhart last Sunday went far afield to find something and somebody to labor. He berated the Saskatchewan government for passing a law requiring farmers to pay their 1938 seed grain advances out of their 1939 crop. Mr. Aberhart claimed this was discriminatory legislation and called on the federal government to disallow same. Of course, the Alberta government did not need to pass a law like this at their 1939 session, because in the fall of 1938 they had collectors and agents in every district and elevator in the province getting their seed grain and other advances from the first loads of wheat delivered by the farmers. Also thousands of crop seizures to satisfy claims held by the Alberta government, and in some instances—we had one a few miles from Trechu not long ago—even cattle and horses were seized to satisfy government land insurance premiums. No, Mr. Aberhart, you did your collecting last year for last year's advances, but Saskatchewan was not such a greedy Shylock; that is the truth of the matter in a couple of nutshells, as our good friend Andy would remark.—Trechu Tribune.

CHAPTER VIII.

Soon they were talking over the meadow, and Sarah Lynn saw with a warm uprush of gratitude that it had been leveled into the semblance of a decent landing-field, Great-granny, Uncle Lynn, going to that extra expense so that she might see her Ladybird first in the setting of old memories.

The plane turned, disdained the browning grass, rose serenely into the air. Instantly, Sarah Lynn knew in a blaze of ecstasy that she had never flown before. Turning traitor to all earlier thrills, she realized that a cabin-plane cut in two the kingdom and the power and the glory. Now, with nothing between her and the sky, she was really flying!

"My first flight in my own plane!" she told herself rapturously. "I can never be as happy as this again if I live to be a hundred!"

She wished passionately that there were more hours instead of minutes before her, but the Gipsy Moth devoured the miles relentlessly, and came daintily down at the San Jose airport.

Men came running with grinning, friendly faces to help her out, mechanics, helpers, attendants. There was a youth with a camera which clicked as Sarah Lynn stepped to the ground.

"Well, Miss Dana, how do you like your boat? Slitick job, huh? Going to fly her yourself?" He came closer. "Mind if I get one of you and Gunnar Thorwald together?" the reporter persisted. "Shaking hands, huh? Sort of 'Welcome to the sky'?"

"Gunnar Thorwald isn't here," she began coldly, but then she saw him coming toward her. "Oh, please, we'd rather not!" She kept her head down.

The Norwegian ace reached them. "I drive you home," he said without preliminary greeting.

The young newspaper man managed a snapshot while they got into Jordan's car. Thanks a lot!" he called out, his nose looking pertly triumphant.

They rolled out of the field and down the road.

"Oh, I forgot!" Sarah Lynn said. "Great-granny and Uncle Lynn were coming for me! I'm afraid I must wait for them."

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

If you suffer from nervousness, weakness, backache, headaches and painful periods, you will find Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription beneficial. It relieves the discomforts of the menstrual period, calms the nerves, improves circulation, and builds up the system. It is a purely vegetable preparation and is safe for all women. It is sold by all druggists and by mail from Dr. J. C. Pierce, Little Rock, Ark.

"We meet them on the road?"
"Yes, we could—"
"You must go quickly home!"
"Oh, no," she discarded the happy birthday plans at which her mother had archly hinted. "You mean—"
"I have, the earnest wish to see those large trees."

A muscle twitched in her cheek. "Then we'll go to Felton, over the mountains, an hour, an hour and a half—"

"No matter, I am free."
And she was free! Her own plane, her own life!

"So now," he was saying gravely, "you will fly."

"Now I will fly."

"That is good."

"They met the car from Danavale and Sarah Lynn jumped out and ran to explain. "Oh, you've brought Lightning!"

"We've lost," Lynn Dana told her. "She was having refined hysterics. Better take her along. I'll telephone your mother." They waited, watching contentedly, while the fliers were out of sight.

Lightning crouched at Sarah Lynn's feet, making small sounds. "Mountains I like; large trees I like," Gunnar said, coming out of one silence and going into another.

She nodded without speaking, and the companionable stillness held, mule on mounting mile.

Redwoods were outlined against the hearty blue sky.

"So, now you fly," Gunnar said again, seriously. "So, now, also, we are friends!"

They were now friends, she told him with a gravity matching his own, and comfortable cloaks of silence enveloped them again.

But a sound of pure astonishment escaped him at sight of the first forest giant.

"But—I have never believed it could be so!"

"Wait!" she pledged him happily. "That is only the prelude to the great ones."

He settled back in his seat with a long, relaxing sigh of contentment. "Large trees I like," he said, "and mountains and the sea, and songs and books; most I like the sky. Also I like a friend."

Sarah Lynn was sincerely sorry for her mother's reaction, but life continued for her now only two shining and splendid facts—flying and Gunnar Thorwald; when other subjects came into her mind it was like pouring fluids into an already brimming bowl; they simply ran over and off.

Whenever she flew with Gunnar Thorwald, Sarah Lynn sat in silence watching his sure hands, looking, learning, remembering, and stored up questions for the earth.

"I have the wish to see your Golden Gate in sunset," he said one day.

They were driving to the landing-field. "Gunnar, I want to come down in a parachute," Sarah Lynn said.

"Yes. But not yet. There is for you much more learning."

"Of course. After I can really fly. It must be the most satisfying thing in the world and not so terribly hard. Just wait and count ten before you pull the string."

"That is, you think, so simple?"

She shivered happily. "It must be the most gloriously terrifying thing—just falling out into the big beyond with a silly trick parol over you! But I want to do it, Gunnar."

He nodded. "You shall do it. But I promise. From my plane. But—when I say you are ready?"

"Yes." She settled back in her seat, entirely content with her lot.

"You mean—?"

Sarah Lynn leaned over Lightning and gave her a hug. "You have one good American friend already. My Uncle Lynn says Conrad Jordan is the best possible person in this country for you to know. He says he's everything—a fine flier, a scholar, a sportsman."

"Also, he makes good music."

"Oh, I didn't know that."

"But yes. At his lodge on the Lake of Tahoe, many nights I have sat by the fire, wind and rain sounding, to listen to his deep thoughts from the piano."

He gave generous gangway to a truck. "You shall hear. I will bring you there one day."

She did not answer, unless, indeed, he heard the thumping beat of her heart. She thought he must. It was a relief to reach the park and get out of the car, and to watch his face as they went walking into the presence of the Big Trees.

The effect upon him was satisfying. He would never be ecstatic or explosive, she knew, but all the appreciation and emotion which others expressed went into the quality of his looking, his silence. He stepped softly, as if he found himself in a cathedral, and his face, under the blanch of unsalted-butter-colored hair, might have been the earnest countenance of a Boy Scout bent upon good deeds.

Gunnar was looking only at the trees, so Sarah Lynn was able to look at him. He seemed younger, somehow; his austerity was giving way to a little-boy-like wonder, with an interlarding of wistfulness.

"So, now, you fly," he began as before.

"So, now, we are friends."

"Yes," she told him contentedly.

"Friends," he repeated, but there was clearly more on his mind.

"Fliers," he stated with authority, "shall not marry."

"No?"
"No."
"No," she agreed docilely.
Then they walked on, and he was quite evidently relieved at having settled an important matter swiftly and finally. She would be a flier, and they would be friends, and fliers did not marry.

Newspaper publicity broke out like a rash.

Miss Ethelinda Pennington proved to be putty in the hands of bright young reporters and bland feature-writers from San Jose and San Francisco papers. Quickly and painlessly they extracted a vivid picture of Sarah Lynn's odd childhood with many quaint details as to the mornings in the meadow and her pre-occupation with ladybugs, and departed jubilantly for their type-writers before she was well out of the ether.

Ladybug was a rich theme, and they rang endless changes upon it. Many pages went from the wheel-chair to Sally Ann in Cornwall.

"There was an epic battle between Cousin Adelaide, big and beautiful and lyrically martial, and the little old Matrilarch, small and mighty and mad. I'm sorry for you, Addie," she said, "but you better make up your mind to it. You're worse off than the hen that hatched ducks; you got an eagle, and I guess maybe it's harder to watch 'em fly than swim."

"We fought her that flying-machine, Lynn and me, and we're paying a young feller to teach her to run it. Didn't I tell you, first time over I laid eyes on the young-one?"

I knew right off she was one at the dark ones."

"Then she went close and peered up at her and shook a parchment finger in her face. 'And you listen to me, Addie, for it's the gospel truth. She's more my child than she is yours, for all you bormed her and there's worse than seventy years between us!'"

Sarah Lynn was sincerely sorry for her mother's reaction, but life continued for her now only two shining and splendid facts—flying and Gunnar Thorwald; when other subjects came into her mind it was like pouring fluids into an already brimming bowl; they simply ran over and off.

Whenever she flew with Gunnar Thorwald, Sarah Lynn sat in silence watching his sure hands, looking, learning, remembering, and stored up questions for the earth.

Virtually A Prisoner

Richest Man in World Cannot Leave His Own Land

Picturesque, a character who might have stepped out of the Old Testament, the Nizam of Hyderabad conducts one of the strangest recluses of modern times; rule of the richest man in the world.

From the sultry, showy place in the city of Hyderabad, capital of this south central Indian province, the nizam wields his power over some 14,000,000 subjects. In a huge red and gold room he directs the routine business of his native state, reaching decisions quickly. He attends his official duties with utter lack of ceremony. He wears the simplest attire. On state occasions, however, he stages vast Oriental splendor.

Fabulously wealthy, the nizam is said to be worth $600,000,000. Yet he is virtually a prisoner in his own land. Ancient customs decree that he shall never leave Indian shores. Actually he never leaves the capital city, even during the torrid summers.

He owns six beautiful palaces, yet he prefers to dwell in the smallest. He has a fleet of 50 limousines, yet he often travels about in an old touring car of 1927 model. He collects the bulk of his fortune from his people, but he turns much of it back in works of public welfare, model villages, sanitariums and child health centres. As a native state, Hyderabad has its own stamp.

SOME FAT SALARIES

Government records at Edmonton show that a number of our elected representatives to the legislature, in addition to receiving their $2,000 legislative indemnity, have drawn from the public treasury other good fat sums. Here are a few:

G. L. MacLachlan, M.L.A., additional remuneration $2,360, plus $868 for expense money, which, with the indemnity, makes a total of $5,280. Not bad when compared with the market price of wheat today.

A. J. Hooke, M.L.A., Red Deer, additional remuneration $1,464 and expenses $490. Doing nicely, thank you!

F. M. Baker, M.L.A., additional remuneration $1,232 and expenses $601, plus indemnity $2,000, making a total of $3,833. An amount not to be sneezed at in times like these.

Then the relief commission were paid $4,154.05, divided as follows: A. B. Boucher $1,296, Mrs. Edith Gostick $1,280 and Dr. J. L. Robinson $1,574. Pretty good going for relief helpers.

Then, too, we should not overlook that little item of $4,000 presented to Mr. G. F. Powell, that wonder-working Social Credit expert at one time of Port Saskatchewan, now of England.

Were the matter not so serious, one could laugh at the lavish way in which our money is being squandered among the faithful—Innisfail Province.

SOME IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT BOY SCOUTING

Boy Scouting was started in England with a small experimental camp in 1907, and came to Canada in the same year. In thirty-one years it has spread to ninety-nine countries, including parts of the British Empire. There are 2,855,000 Scouts in the world today, and some ten million boys have benefited from the Scout training since the movement began.

There are 95,237 Scouts in Canada, and 1,055,000 in the British Empire.

The movement divides its membership into three age groups: Wolf Cubs, boys 8 to 12; Boy Scouts, land and sea, 12 to 17; and Rover Scouts, land and sea, young men over 17. It aims to develop a cheerful, resourceful, good-neighbour type of character; the practice of good health habits, and a hobby-hands-on interest that may help a boy find his niche in life. It teaches chiefly, by games and outdoor activities calculated to develop facilities of observation, resourcefulness and co-operation. It recognizes no class, racial or religious distinction—Scouts of the world over are brother Scouts. Every Scout promises that he will do his best towards doing his duty to God and the King, to help other people at all times; and to obey the Scout law, which calls for honor, loyalty, usefulness, brotherliness, courtesy, friendship, obedience, cheerfulness, thriftiness and cleanliness in thought, word and deed. The slogan is: "Do a good turn every day," and the motto: "Be prepared."

In Alberta thirty-five years ago the duck season closed on May 4th and opened on the following August 23rd.

In the third game of the Allan Cup finals, Montreal Royals defeated the Port Arthur Bearcats 6-4 last night at Montreal. The best three of five series now stands Port Arthur 2, Montreal 1.

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

A good many husbands are utterly spoiled in the cooking. Some women keep them constantly in hot water. Others let them freeze by carelessness and indifference. Some keep them 'in pickle' all their lives. It is not reasonable to suppose that any husband can be tender and appetizing treated in this way, but they are really delicious when properly prepared. Be sure to select him yourself, as tastes differ. Do not go to market for him. The best are always brought to your door. See that the linen in which you wrap him is nicely washed and mended with the required number of buttons and strings securely sewn on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong comfort cord. Set him near a clear, steady fire of love, neatness and cheerfulness. Add a little sugar in form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. Do not stick 'em with any sharp instrument to see if he is becoming tender. If thus treated you will find him very digestible, agreeing with you and the children.—Selected.

AMERICA INVADED

South America has been invaded by a deadly enemy. Not an armed force of human warriors, however, but the anopheles gambiae, a carrier of a grave and often fatal type of malaria. This type of mosquito was, until 1930, known only in central Africa. Then, apparently by plane, or on fast destroyers crossing from Dakar, West Africa, to Natal, Brazil, he made the jump to South America.

Soon after, a severe and deadly type of malaria broke out near Natal.

The International Health Division of the Rockefeller Foundation will spend $100,000 this year in fighting the invader. For unless he is halted, he might carry his deadly germ through South, Central and even into North America.

Fast communications have reduced the dangers of such invaders, for mosquitoes which would die during a long ocean voyage easily survive a quick airplane hop.

SEZ OLD BILL TO BERTIE
AND ALFIE

(By A. L. Freebairn, Pincher Creek)

Sez Old Bill, to Bertie and Alfie, 'G'd Blime Me, you look in the pink. You must 'ave been backing a winner. Well, 'ow about buying a drink. It's a confusion to old Mussolini and 'oping, as 'tler may choke. My word, 'ow I'd really enjoy To get my two 'ands on that bloke.

I'll leave it to you 'uns and Barmoid if them blighters ain't going too far. The time to 'ave 'alted their nonsense was when they moved into the Saar. 'E gives England 'is solemn promise. Say, excuse me, if I 'ave to laff. Why, 'tler would lie on the Bible—I wouldn't believe 'im, not arf.

Old Drake didn't say I ain't ready When the Armada sailed up from Spain.

No, 'e said when 'is bowling was over, 'E're a chance to increase England's fame.

It ain't all a matter of numbers. It's a matter of doing what's right. And 'aving the courage to back it. It's courage that at'll wins the fight. Now, 'e's taken the best part of Europe.

I'm dashed if it don't seem a shame. And I don't think 'e'd ever 'ave done it If England 'ad shown she was game. It's time to forget this appeasement. And stick up for honor and right. For 'tler 'as just one ambition— To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

To 'umble and break England's might.

THE GRIPPE!

The doctor went to see him.
For he was very ill;
And, after diagnosing,
He handed him a pill.

Saying:—

"A touch of astraphobia
Has left you somewhat weak,
And topophobia slightly

I notice in your cheek;
Acute agoraphobia

Has caused you to repine;
While chronic claustrophobia

Now irritates your spine;
Your trouble, anthropobia,

I've treated once before,
But, what with gymnaphobia,

You'll need a little more;
The symptoms monophobia

Are most severe indeed,
And for your pathophobia

More exercise you need;
'Tis mysophobia largely

That keeps the fever high,
And pantophobia threatening

May follow by-and-by;
To these, add phobophobia,

The worst of all your ills—
Look out for hydrophobia,

Unless you take these pills!"

It should be said, the doctor

Was guilty of this quip.

Because he found his patient

Was suffering from the gripple!

IN MEMORIAM

Every April 14th, where the slow Atlantic swell sweeps across the edge of the Grand Banks, one of the Coast Guard cutters pauses to pay the annual homage of the Ice Patrol to the 1517 dead in the Titanic disaster, which caused the patrol's creation. With engines dead still and church pennant at masthead, officers and men line the quarterdeck in full dress while the commander reads the burial service. Then a rifle squad fires three volleys and the cutter steams away, leaving a lone wreath bobbing on the waves above the broken hull.

Things have been happening recently in and around the bustling town of Brooks. One news item appearing last week in the press recording the following down of a building erected in 1936 to be used as a cannery factory, was by no means the least interesting.

This particular building was all that ever came out of the "factory a week" slogan of the Social Credit party in 1935 and it has now "gone with the wind." No machinery or equipment was ever installed and it remained a silent monument of another Abernethy folly. The provincial government handed over some ten thousand dollars of the taxpayers' hard-earned money to the National Food Products Co. (presumably some good Social Crediters) to start their cannery factory, but the company never capped a can. At the 1937 session of the legislature, Liberal Leader Gray told the government that the factory building at Brooks was of faulty construction and the company was not financially sound. Replying for the government, Mr. Manning said that everything was quite satisfactory. A brisk chop wind last week decided the argument in favor of Mr. Gray. Alberta is now minus its one and only "factory a week" building with the taxpayers holding the bag.—Trochu Tribune.

C. H. Dyer, of Beaver Mines, has been appointed general repairman for the thirty-nine schools in the new enlarged Castle River school district.

Trail will extend an official welcome to its first world champion hockey team on May 17th, when the Stacks Eaters will be honored at a dinner provided for more than 500 guests. Illuminated scrolls will be presented to members of the team.

We have just lost track of the exact number of "denials" from our premier in the period 1935 to March, 1939, but anyhow some twenty more must be added. Most of the statements denied by our premier were later found to be correct. A little self-denial would be more to the point right now.

NEW SPORTS GROUP

IS ORGANIZED

With the object of continuing physical training and other recreational activities, an organization to be known as the Pass Sport Club was organized at a well attended meeting at Coleman Catholic hall last week end.

Officers of the new organization are: Peter Fry, Hillcrest, president; Miss E. Morris, Coleman, secretary; Doug Lord, Blairmore, treasurer; with Miss A. Harrison, F. Coccione and N. Frandsen (Coleman); Misses M. Grant and Jean Upton, and N. Packer (Blairmore); Misses E. Brooks and R. Rhodes, and F. Hallworth (Bellevue) as executive.

Meetings are to be held once a week, with each of the three centres taking turns as hosts.

Gymnastics, hikes, swimming and games will be included with social evenings on the programme of the club, which will use influence to have a district swimming pool established. With a view to raising funds, a dance will be staged in the Columbus hall at Blairmore on the night of May 24.

POTATO NESTS

Prepare mashed potatoes in your usual way, adding one slightly beaten egg yolk for each two cups of mashed potatoes. Drop by spoonful on a greased pan and shape with a spoon, with a deep hollow in each. Brush with melted butter and brown delicately in moderately hot oven of 375 degrees Fahrenheit.

The sale of farm equipment at the Callender Fraser farm, north of Lundbreck, on Monday afternoon, was well attended and good prices were realized, particularly for the cattle. Wal Eddy, veteran auctioneer, did the crying for this sale. Mr. and Mrs. Fraser are moving to Pincher Creek to reside. Mr. Bodon, of Hillcrest, is taking over the Fraser ranch.

The annual concert of the Manitoba schools orchestra, numbering 150 alert young players, under the baton Ronald W. Gibson, made music that charmed an enthusiastic audience of about 1,000 people, according to a Winnipeg exchange, which stated "It was gala playing for a gala and heartening event. Something like one hundred of the orchestra members had come from the country, and they had been listening to Mr. Gibson over the radio Saturday mornings and had only been in actual practice with the Winnipeg players since the beginning of the week. So it was more than a little surprising that the blend of the orchestra should be so splendid, the entrances so alert, the rhythms so elastic and the playing in general so vital. It was plain to see that Mr. Gibson had the respect of his orchestra, and they responded to his conducting in a manner that must have pleased him immensely. It was a fine evening, and the players have reason to be proud of themselves. Besides Mr. Gibson, there are Elsa Handel, personnel director; Reg. Beach, assistant; Isabel Potter and Helen Inglis, librarians, and Goldie Bell, concert mistress, among the officers."

The application of a Roman Catholic priest to enter the Presbyterian church was approved at a meeting of the Toronto presbytery. He brought his congregation with him.

A request for the resignation of all members of the Saskatchewan legislature was forwarded to Premier William Patterson by the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, yesterday. Basis for the request was that the members raised their session indemnities at the last session, in face of the impoverished condition of many farmers. What about Alberta?

A bachelor named Joseph Samard was found dead in his cabin home at Crows' Nest late last evening, dying apparently from a heart attack. He was reported around during the day. The police and Coroner F. J. Turner were called to the scene, and in all likelihood an inquest will be unnecessary. The remains were brought to Blairmore by A. E. Ferguson, of the Crows' Nest Funeral Home, at midnight, and will likely be buried here.

To commemorate the visit of the King and Queen to Alberta, The Enterprise will issue a special colored supplement, containing large colored picture of Their Majesties, pictures of Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose; Glamis Castle, the ancestral home of Queen Elizabeth; Sandringham House in Norfolk; Canada's popular governor-general, His Excellency Lord Tweedsmuir, and a number of interesting news articles centering around the royal family. The issue will likely appear on May 26th. Watch for it.

LOCAL AND GENERAL ITEMS

Vacant lots in Calgary are to be cultivated. What about Blairmore?

In the year 1939 one part of Alberta, at least, could boast of more money than brains.

Details of what the Alberta government has failed to do would fill a very large book.

Earl and Lady Baldwin are guests of Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir at Rideau Hall, Ottawa.

Newspaper heading reads: "Louis knocks out Roper in 2:20." Clark says it should have been "2:10."

Thomas Shale, junior, 36, Calgary hotel tapman, was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the street accident death of Robert Croucher, milkman, and was sentenced to one year in jail.

The Innisfail Province this week announces that "crocuses are out." It may be interesting to our prairie friends to know that open crocus blossoms were seen in the Crows' Nest Pass on March 20th.

Mrs. J. H. McLean and daughters Elaine and Dolores have returned to Blairmore, following a visit with relatives and friends at Coleman and Bellevue. Mrs. Foster, mother of Mrs. McLean, accompanied them.

Golfing on the Blairmore course of the Crows' Nest Pass Golf and Country Club got away to a fair start during the past week. The course is reported as being in excellent shape and an enjoyable season is anticipated.

The marriage of Miss Flora Finetti, of Pincher Creek, to Mr. Alvin Mickels, of Blairmore, was solemnized by Rev. R. Magowan at Pincher Creek on Saturday last. The young couple will make their home in Blairmore.

At the Unity League rally at Cowley last night, the statement was made that "no representation at all would be no worse than that experienced by Pincher Creek and Rocky Mountain constituencies during the past couple of years."

An auction sale of cattle, farm implements, household effects, etc., will be held at the old Charles Simister farm, one and a half miles southwest of Lundbreck, on Saturday, April 29th, by W. T. Eddy. See bills for further particulars.

The preliminary hearing of the manslaughter charge against Mrs. Ray Miller concluded before Magistrate Gresham in the local police court on Friday last, when the accused was remanded to the fall sitting of the criminal assizes at Macleod.

Advice is easy to get, but most of us can't take it.

If dictators were done away with, Alberta's population would be less by one.

Railway passenger traffic in Canada dropped 61 per cent between 1921 and 1937.

Bob Tennant, of Drumheller, has been declared provincial checker champion.

One advantage in being a premier, an attorney-general and a minister of education all in one is that it provides such splendid opportunities for patting one's self on the back.

Legislation should have been passed at the recent session to provide free haircuts and shaves for members of our provincial parliament who are unable to earn less than eight bucks a day.

F. W. Abbott, formerly of Scotland Yard, is touring the United States and Canada so that he may advise the R.C.M.P. on how best to safeguard the King and Queen on their visit to North America.

Two elk heads and two black beaver skins will be presented by the Hudson Bay Company, at Winnipeg, to Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth when they arrive there next month. This gift is a perpetuation of the agreement entered into with King Charles II. in 1670, that whenever the king or his successor came to the Hudson Bay territory, they would be presented with elk and beaver.

GRAND ALLIANCE FORMED AGAINST DICTATOR STATES

London.—Great Britain and France cast a protective shield over Rumania and Greece while continuing negotiations with Turkey and Bulgaria to join Poland in a grand alliance against aggression in Europe.

Concurrent statements in London and Paris by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Daladier pledged the armed strength of Great Britain and France to Rumania and Greece if either of those Balkan countries marshalled its forces to defend its territory from outside aggression.

Unlike the Anglo-French pledge to Poland, the guarantees to Greece and Rumania are unilateral. Within a few days it is hoped in London to merge these pledges into a formal anti-aggression pact. Then, it is hoped, Russia will withdraw the whole scheme, just as France and Britain have done.

If Turkey and Bulgaria joined the anti-aggression front it would mark out a solid bloc of gun-studded territory stretching from the Baltic to the Mediterranean which would be forbidden land for the forces of the dictator states unless they desired a general war.

In addition it would turn the whole eastern Mediterranean into a preserve—a no man's land for Hitler and Mussolini—through French domination of Syria and British control of Palestine and Egypt.

Mr. Chamberlain, after reviewing Italy's Good Friday invasion of Albania, announced the new pledges in these words:

"His Majesty's government attach the greatest importance to the avoidance of disturbance by force, or threats of force, of the status quo in the Mediterranean and the Balkan peninsula.

"Consequently, they have come to the conclusion that, in the event of any action being taken which clearly threatens the independence of Greece and Rumania, and which the Greek or Rumanian government respectively consider it vital to resist with their national forces, His Majesty's government will feel themselves bound to lend at once to the Greek or Rumanian governments, as the case might be, all the support in their power."

The prime minister spoke for half an hour, reading in a low, hoarse voice from a manuscript. General debate followed in which critics of the government's policy centred on the exclusion of Russia from the general scheme for halting the dictators.

Want New Deal

To Free Municipalities For Material Aid For Unemployed

Ottawa.—A new deal in relief costs to free the municipalities of their present share of responsibility for material aid for unemployed was urged upon the Dominion government by spokesmen for the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

A delegation of 19 representing the federation placed their case for recognition of unemployment as a national responsibility before the cabinet committee on relief, composed of Hon. Norman Rogers, labor minister; Hon. T. A. Crerar, mines minister; and Hon. C. D. Howe, transport minister.

Youth training, the lot of the single unemployed, extension of the Housing Act and the use of the facilities of the Bank of Canada in public financing were also discussed with the cabinet in a closed meeting. Mayor Stanley Lewis, of Ottawa, federation chairman, offered the cabinet the full co-operation of the mayors in dealing with the unemployment problem. He suggested a committee of these elected representatives of the people be called into consultation by both the federal and provincial governments.

Pigeons For War Service

Register Of Trainers Has Been Drawn Up In England

London.—Mindful of the vital importance of racing pigeons in relaying important messages during the Great War, the authorities have organized the nucleus of a national pigeon service, forming a cog in Britain's preparedness machine.

Under the direction of Major W. H. Osman, who had charge of the pigeon flying section during the war, a register of pigeon fanciers and trainers has already been drawn up. Bases have already been established at Calshot and Singapore where pigeons are being trained in connection with service work. Additional bases are now in the process of formation.

Currency Policy

Bank Of Canada At All Times Controls Volume Of Currency

Ottawa.—Whenever additional currency is required to maintain a reasonable equilibrium in Canadian business it will be issued by the Bank of Canada, Hon. Charles Dunning, minister of finance, told the House of Commons in a brief explanation of the currency policy of the government which he described as "expansionist."

Mr. Dunning's bill to permit the government to borrow $750,000,000 for refunding and other purposes in the present fiscal year finally received first reading as John Blackmore, Social Credit leader, announced his followers would postpone further opposition to it until second reading.

A. A. Heaps (C.C.F., Winnipeg North) said the previous government had issued some $48,000,000 in currency without any particular backing and had not caused inflation. He wanted to know why the present government could not issue any amount which might be required. Mr. Dunning said the issue mentioned by Mr. Heaps was to tide over the period in which the Bank of Canada was set up when bank currency was being retired.

"Now we have a condition under the Bank of Canada Act whereby the Bank of Canada can and does at all times control the volume of currency in existence," he said. "That involves a continuous study by the bank and its expert officers of the question of how much currency should be in existence from day to day, week to week and month to month."

"The proof that the bank discharges this function is found in the figures I gave last year indicating the degree to which expansion of our currency has taken place since the bank was instituted. I gave the information as demonstrating the policy of the bank and the government to be an expansionist policy of easy money."

New Settlers For Canada

Sudetan Refugees Described As Fine Type Of People

Ottawa.—Fifty Sudetan refugee families sailed from an English port April 8 for Canada on their way to new homes in the Peace River district, according to word received here by the Canadian national committee on refugees and victims of political persecution.

Another 50 families are scheduled to sail April 22. In succeeding months 100 families a month may follow, up to a total of between 300 and 400 families. These refugees will settle in the Peace River district in groups of 25 to 50 families. They are described by the British committee as "a fine type of people" and are under the leadership of the social democrat, Herr Jakesch.

Urges Free Text Books

Manitoba Teachers' Federation Endorse Resolution At Urged Convention

Winnipeg.—Manitoba is urged to adopt the principle of free text books for elementary grades in public schools in a resolution endorsed at the convention of the Manitoba Teachers' Federation. It left open whether the cost of books should be borne by the government or the schools boards or shared between them.

Allan Moore, of Winnipeg, was elected president of the federation.

Accepts Nomination

J. S. Woodsword Will Again Contest C.C.F. Seat In Winnipeg

Winnipeg.—J. S. Woodsword, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation party, again will contest Winnipeg's North Centre constituency for the C.C.F. in the next federal election.

Mr. Woodsword, who won the seat for his group in the 1936 elections, accepted the nomination at a joint convention of C.C.F. supporters and members of the Independent Labor party.

Determined To Investigate

Prayers For Peace

London.—Westminster Abbey has been opened for continuous intercession for peace around the tomb of the unknown soldier. The public will be permitted to enter the nation's prayer day and night "to pray that the peace of the world may be preserved."

War Risk Insurance

Underwriters Withdraw Quotations On Shipments To Germany Or Italy

New York.—Marine underwriters announced withdrawal of war risk insurance quotations on shipments to or from Italy or Germany and on shipments to any destination carried on Italian or German vessels.

Expressing concern over the possibility of a general outbreak in Europe, the underwriters also announced advances in war risk rates to ports other than Italian and German.

They said they would quote rates for Italian and German coverage only upon application. Such rates, it was said, would depend on the possibility, as judged by underwriters, of a war beginning during the period the individual cargo would be afloat.

The advances announced ranged from 100 to 200 per cent. from increased levels established March 31. Rates to some ports were left unchanged.

MILLIONS OF MEN UNDER ARMS IN MILITARY PARADE

London.—Millions of men under arms were spread across Europe as almost every nation took military precautions against the threat of war.

The totalitarian powers, Germany and Italy—with a million men each—shouldering bayonets—led the parade in manpower. France, with a million soldiers on duty, and Great Britain, boasting her standing army and national guard toward the 600,000 mark, were not far behind.

Soviet Russia's armed forces now are estimated at about 2,500,000 and Nationalist Spain's at almost 1,000,000.

In addition to the approximate 7,000,000 soldiers ready for action in the six major nations, almost every other country has taken military precautions, adding substantially to the normal total of 1,100,000 men which 18 other European countries keep under arms.

The Italian armed forces, most disturbing at the moment to Great Britain and France, total more than 800,000 men exclusive of colonial troops, and are chiefly distributed as follows:

Albania, 50,000; Spain, 60,000; Dodecanese Islands, 30,000; Libya, 80,000; Ethiopia area, 280,000; Italy, 400,000.

Notices posted throughout Poland notified certain reservists of the army classes of 1912 to 1917 inclusive to hold themselves in readiness for service in auxiliary arms such as labor battalions.

Indian Merchants Warned

Newspaper Advises Them To Beware Of Nazi Blockade Marks

Bombay.—Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the German Reichsbank, here on a "vacation," was accused by the Bombay Chronicle of attempting to "exploit India's economy."

The Times of India said Dr. Schacht was here "to buy up the immediate as well as the future stocks" of Indian cotton growers. The paper warned Indian merchants to "remember the bitter experience of the Balkan states which tried similar block trading with Germany" to which they were unable to get their money out of the reich.

Canadian Unity

A Great Need Of Education Of Public Opinion

Ottawa.—Never in history is Canadian unity as important as at present, Col. Wilfrid Bovey, director of extra-mural relations at McGill University, Montreal, told the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in convention here.

There was never a greater need for education of public opinion, Col. Bovey said. Public attention was focused on the possibility of Canada being involved in foreign wars. In his opinion Canada had no chance of remaining neutral. "In any war where Britain or the United States is engaged their enemies will attack us and at present we are uncomfortably open to attack."

Canadian youth is "educationally underprivileged," said Col. Bovey, because of the division of educational responsibility among the provinces. The result was a lack of uniformity. He would suggest greater facilities for adult education through co-operation between the federation and the Canadian Association for Adult Education, which he heads.

"I would suggest that you start on a basis of providing for one per cent of the population," he said. "Call together the leading employers of your community, tell them what you are doing and ask them to give special consideration to the young people who have followed courses of instruction."

Wheat For China

First Canadian Shipment In Three Years Going To Shanghai

Vancouver.—The first shipment of Canadian wheat to China in three years will leave Vancouver, April 23, aboard the steamship Darlington Court.

One thousand short tons—33,333 bushels—were loaded aboard the freighter and consigned for Japanese buyers in Shanghai.

Canadian wheat shipments to China, once substantial, were halted by the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Largest Fish Catch

Lunenburg, N.S.—Officials of Lunenburg Sea Products said the largest fish catch ever landed at their pier was brought into port during a recent weekend by seven Lunenburg schooners. The seven, one of which made two trips, landed slightly more than 800,000 pounds.

Termed Second Offender

New York Judge's Wife Gets Jail Sentence For Smuggling

New York.—Mrs. Elsie J. Lauer, wife of Judge Edgar A. Lauer, of the New York supreme court, was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $2,500 on her plea of guilty to a four-count indictment charging her with conspiracy and smuggling. The government asked a jail term for Mrs. Lauer because she was termed a second offender.

Some two hours later, Albert N. Chapman, the go-between in a series of smuggling adventures which had involved not only Mrs. Lauer but George Burns and Jack Benny, the comedians, was sentenced by another federal judge, Murray Hulbert, to five years in prison and fined $5,000.

Thus the government cleared its docket of the Chapman affair, Benny and Burns having previously pleaded guilty and paid fines of $10,000 and $8,000, respectively.

Term To Be Extended

Chief Justice Of Canada Not Retiring At Usual Time

Ottawa.—A bill to extend the term of Sir Lyman P. Duff as chief justice of Canada for three years after his 75th birthday on Jan. 7 next was introduced in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, and given first reading.

Under the Supreme Court Act justices must retire when they reach 75. The bill would also provide that on his retirement Sir Lyman would receive a life annuity equal to his present salary of $15,000 a year.

CANADA WILL CLAMP DOWN ON SUBVERSIVE ACTS

Ottawa.—Canada will clamp down on espionage and similar subversive acts attempted by agents of foreign powers. Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, justice minister, obtained first reading in the House of Commons for a bill aimed at tightening the law relating to efforts of possible enemy agents to pry into the nation's secrets.

The bill consolidates and incorporates into the Canadian statute the British official secrets act of 1911 and its 1920 amending legislation. It also brings up to date several features of those statutes. The measure supercedes section 85 and 86 of the criminal code which refer to violation of the law governing official secrets.

Its 35 clauses are comprehensive. They deal with spying and other activities prejudicial to the safety of the state. A person will be considered guilty of an offence if, for any purpose out of harmony with the safety of the state, he approaches or is found in the neighborhood of a prohibited place.

A prohibited place is any defence work, factory, dockyard, telegraph or other signal station, air station or other locality, whether it is or is not government-owned, where, if factory or storehouse, government property is being made or stored.

If a person arrested near a prohibited place has been in communication with a foreign power, that fact will be accepted as evidence that his purpose is prejudicial to the state. And he will be considered to have been in communication with a foreign power if he has visited the address of foreign agent or consorted with him in or outside of Canada or if his address is found on him or is being supplied by him to some other person.

The expression "an agent of a foreign power" includes any person who is or has been or is reasonably suspected of being or having been employed by a foreign power either directly or indirectly for the purpose of committing an act, either with or without Canada prejudicial to the safety or interests of the state," the legislation says.

The measure goes on to define other indictable offences relating to espionage, such as the communication of information by a person of information for the benefit of a foreign power, and retention by him of unauthorized documents.

It sets forth the offence of falsification of reports, forgeries, personation and false documents and makes it a crime for a person seeking to gain admission to a prohibited place by wearing, without lawful authority, military, naval, air force or police uniform, or any uniform "so nearly resembling the same as to be calculated to deceive."

Persons who harbor spies and withhold information from the police relating to espionage are included among those who commit offences under this legislation.

OUTLINES PLAN FOR DEALING WITH UNEMPLOYMENT

Ottawa.—An 11-point program for a comprehensive attack on the unemployment problem was laid before the House of Commons by Denton Massey (Cons., Toronto-Greenwood), who also threw the house into an uproar with a charge "thousands" of transients have died from exposure, illness, starvation and lack of care.

Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, promptly challenged the transient statement and demanded proof or a retraction. Mr. Massey stood his ground in the face of similar demands from many Liberal members but admitted he had not categorical facts before him to prove the truth of the statement. He declared Mr. Rogers could not prove it was untrue.

Mr. Massey's program was outlined at the end of a five-hour speech on the bill to provide for unemployment and farm relief. The 11 suggestions were:

1. Extensive development of the Northwest Territories;
2. Large-scale afforestation and reforestation;
3. Water conservation, and flood control;
4. Development of tourist attractions including highway improvements;
5. Co-operative nation-wide housing plan with Dominion, provincial and municipal governments participating;
6. An effective youth re-establishment program including technical and vocational education and national youth training program;
7. Establishment of camps along the lines of the civilian conservation corps camps in United States;
8. An improved employment service under direction of the federal administration;
9. An intensive nation-wide publicity campaign to restore confidence in business and industry and open up new jobs;
10. A Dominion-provincial-municipal conference under the chairmanship of some outstanding empire figure like the Earl of Willingdon to make out a social reform program and bring the present economic system up to date.

While the Toronto member was speaking, Mr. Rogers announced in a departmental statement that the Dominion government will inaugurate a $1,000,000 national forestry program as an expansion of the youth training plan.

Airplanes For Europe

United States Aircraft Factories Are Rushing Orders

Los Angeles.—Los Angeles county aircraft factories pushed construction of 830 planes under order from Great Britain, France and the Netherlands, totalling almost 60,000,000.

At the union air terminal at Burbank, six Lockheed bombers were awaiting start of shakedown flights. They included three 17,000-pound twin-engined planes of which England and Australia have ordered 300 at a cost of $28,350,000. The other three were smaller type bombers of a type for which the Netherlands have placed a tentative order for a dozen at $700,000.

North American Aviation, Inc., at Inglewood, hold a $16,000,000 contract with Great Britain for 400 fast low-winged combat planes.

The Douglas Aircraft Company plant at El Segundo is working on a contract for manufacturing $11,000,000 worth of bombers for France. The Netherlands government has bought 18 attack planes.

German Fleet Sails

Report Nazis Have Submarine Bases On Spanish Coast

Berlin.—Units of the German fleet sailed from Kiel, reliable quarters said, to hold annual spring manoeuvres in the Atlantic off the coast of Spain.

The news was received in Paris as confirmation that the Nazis have established submarine and naval bases on the Spanish coast with the full permission of General Franco.

Some authorities believe that, operating from such bases, the Nazis could, in event of war, strike crippling blows at British and French communication lines into the Mediterranean, as well as to South Africa and South America.

Other sources, particularly in London, saw the move as a stratagem by the Reich's naval command to get its fleet out of the Kiel canal in event hostilities flared and the British North sea squadrons moved to bottle the German ships up at that base.

When Mussolini looks at the map of Italy he imagines that thing should kick.
